

BELOW: Ms Meeta Bhar, Ms Theresa Fong and Mr Alan Chuah.
FAR BELOW: Sapura Auto hosts Ernst & Young's Entrepreneur of the Year finalists' party.

Celebrating Young Entrepreneurs

Sapura Auto hosts party to announce the year's Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year (EOY) Malaysia 2007 finalists.

For the first time in its five-year history in Malaysia, the short-listed names of the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year (EOY) Malaysia 2007 award programme was announced "live" at the Sapura Auto showroom on Jalan Tun Razak, Kuala Lumpur.

Sapura Auto spared no expense to decorate the showroom to reflect the prestige of the programme. Among other elements, the venue was bathed in an array of different lights for what turned out to be a spectacular evening. Guests were also treated to caviar and foie gras, and jazz band Groove Avenue throughout the evening.

The nominees and their senior management waited with bated breath for the announcement that determined which one of them would make it to the world EOY finals to be held on December 3rd.

The short-listed finalists who attended the event were Edmund Santhara of Masterskill (M) Sdn Bhd, Ganesh Kumar Bangah of MOL Access Portal Berhad, Justin Tan Seng Kooi of Extol MSC Berhad, Noraini Soltan of Sipro Plastic Industries Sdn Bhd, and Datin Alicia Tan Kuay Fong of TA Enterprise Berhad.

The EOY programme, founded and produced by Ernst & Young, is an international annual award programme, which identifies and recognises the achievements of outstanding entrepreneurs who have established and grown successful companies. The programme is now into its 19th year.

TOP: The EOY networking dinner on September 6th was hosted by Sapura Auto at its Jalan Tun Razak showroom.
LEFT: Mr See Huey Beng, Ms Janice Wong, Mr Philip Rao, Dato Dr Abdul Samad and Encik Mohar Ibrahim.

